

CARNIVAL WEEK AT PHOENIX

The Events of the Week
Briefly Outlined.

SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS THIS

Tournament the Special Feature--Phoenix has Donned
Her Holiday Dress.

[Special Correspondence.]

The arrangements are practically completed for the great Phoenix Indian and Cowboy Carnival, and when President McKinley at Washington sends a telegram formally opening the affair, which will be read by Director-General Lewis, a week's amusement and sport unparalleled in the history of Arizona Territory will be inaugurated.

The program is one of interest from start to finish, commencing on Monday with the great civic, military, cowboy and Indian parade, concluding with the coronation of the queen of the carnival and street fair, Mrs. N. B. Pratt, in installing her on the throne, and with the vaudeville entertainment, the opening day will be one of complete enjoyment.

The carnival, the present year in Phoenix, is a combination of the highly original idea of the past years of the exhibition of Indian and cowboy sports, industries characteristics and pastimes together with the new idea of a street fair. The Carnival Association has gathered together the best ideas from all sources. There will be a large number of booths occupied by merchants with their wares, located along Washington street, the main street of the city, and these, together with the beautiful street decorations and thousands of incandescent lights, will form a picture of great splendor.

The Director-General of the Carnival, R. Allen Lewis, is a very popular and well known young business man of Phoenix with a big circle of friends and acquaintances. The carnival committee the present year--Messrs. Hirschfeld, Clark, Goldberg, Luhrs, McCowan, Benham and Price, are all, with one exception, members of the last year's carnival executive committee.

Cowboy sports begin on Tuesday and will be held Thursday and Saturday of that week. The baby coach parade, the ribbon parade and the various beautiful features of Woman's Day come on Friday.

The local Elks have arranged to give a magnificent parade of members of their order in the forenoon of Wednesday--a burlesque circus parade in the afternoon, and the most original and startling circus ever given in this country at night-time. They have imported for the occasion costumes, wild animal acrobatic acts, rude bands, clowns and above all a big tent capable of seating 2,000 persons.

They have a number of committees appointed to carry through their part of the entertainment successfully, and the Elks' Day will be a memorable one in the history of the carnival.

The cowboy steer-tying tournament takes place Saturday and there are about twenty entries so far. These and similar features are in charge of Jack Gibson and J. W. Benham.

The present year the social features and functions of the carnival have been more than usually entered into.

Mrs. Chief Justice Webster Street and her committee of ladies will have charge of the queen's reception on Thursday night, which will be a very brilliant affair. And on Friday night the official carnival ball will be the society event of the year in Phoenix. The queen and her court were selected this year by the committee of ladies appointed specially for the purpose and there was no voting on the same.

H. W. LEWIS,

Governor Murphy left last week for Washington where he will attend the celebration of the big capital and then take a hand in aiding Arizona to secure admission to the union.

The war department has sent to Fort Huachuca a flag 120 feet long, with instructions to unfurl to the Arizona breeze one of the largest and most beautiful flags in America.

An exchange says that Senator Clark and Marcus Daly became friends before Daly's death and that Clark called daily to see his old enemy during his serious illness, and when the Montana millionaire died he left his best wishes for his enemy of long years' standing.
